MUSIC TO OUR EARS

Atlanta, GA – January 2004: In early June, 2003, Amware's logistic service options struck a chord with one of the largest acoustic guitar manufacturers in North America. Based in Canada, the company has distribution hubs in the Northeast and Southwestern United States and was interested in developing a third-party relationship in the Southeast to better serve their customer base.

The product mix is a full range of metal music stands and wooden piano benches. All products are manufactured to their specifications by privately-owned and operated companies in China, and are then imported into the United States at various ports of entry for direct distribution.

On December 23rd, and again about one week later, Amware Logistics received the beginning of several containers slated to arrive at our facility direct from China.

The consolidated load had a mixture of piano benches and music stands numbering well over a thousand cartons and consisting of more than 20 different SKU's.

Amware employees are enthusiastic about being entrusted with this project because our customer's pride in craftsmanship is in tune with our own. It is an honor to be selected as the Southeastern distribution point for this acoustic guitar manufacturer; Amware is proud to extend the vision of craftsmanship our customer has developed in their products one step further, to the delivery process.
