CONVERTING FROM WAREHOUSEMEN TO CRAFTSMEN

Jacksonville, FL – April 2005: “On behalf of the team of Craftsman here at Amware’s Jacksonville facility”, says Rob Doyle, Director of Operations, “we would like to welcome our most recent addition, a roll-stock paper manufacturer. We would also like to thank them for choosing Amware Logistics Services as their warehousing and logistics partner here in Florida”.

This week Amware’s Craftsman received the first loads of paper roll-stock and are expecting the next shipment later-on next week. The first inbound and outbound loads moved in and out without a hitch, and we look forward to provide continually smooth operations.

“This customer came to Amware as they have not be satisfied with their existing logistics services provider in the area”, mentions Rob. “They are leaving due to inventory issues, paperwork processing complaints, and service delays. Now that they are with Amware they have already realized an increase in customer service, accuracy, and craftsman-like dedication to their needs. In the future we hope to offer even more supply-chain services to them and look forward to a long and mutually beneficial relationship”.
